Public Alert and Warning Systems

The Emergency Digital Information Service (EDIS) delivers official information about emergencies and disasters to the public and the news media in California. To receive EDIS messages in your e-mail or on your wireless cell phone or pager, visit <http://edis.oes.ca.gov/>.

The Emergency Alert System (EAS) is a national public warning system that requires broadcasters, cable television systems, wireless cable systems, satellite digital audio radio service (SDARS) providers, and direct broadcast satellite (DBS) providers to provide the communications capability to the President to address the American public during a national emergency. The system also may be used by state and local authorities to deliver important emergency information. Tune into your local television or radio station for EAS broadcasts during/after a large-scale emergency/disaster:

City of Indio Emergency Public Information Resources

Emergency officials have a new way to send warnings directly to cell phones in affected areas – Wireless Emergency Alerts (WEAs). These short messages may look like a text message, but unlike texts, which are sent directly to your phone number, these warnings will be broadcast to all phones within range of designated cell towers through the Commercial Mobile Alert System (CMAS). The alerts will tell you the type of warning in your area and the duration. You'll need to turn to other sources, such as television or NOAA All-Hazards radio, to get more detailed information about what is happening and what actions to take, if any. Older phones may not receive WEAs. Cell phone users can check with their service provider to find out if a particular cell phone is WEA-capable.

Riverside County Early Warning Notification System (EWNS) (a telephone alerting system for Riverside County. EWNS allows public safety first responders to rapidly alert and warn the public in the event of an emergency. This includes primary phone numbers for every business and residence in Riverside County with traditional phone service. To add a cell phone number or Voice Over IP numbers via a secure website, visit www.countyofriverside.us and click on the "Early Warning Notification" link located on the lower right side of the page.
